

Voluntary funding

Reduce benefit costs and offer coverage your employees need

After health insurance, dental insurance is the benefit employees ask for the most. In fact, 76% of employees said they would be interested in dental insurance if it was offered by their employer.¹

Voluntary dental plans are a great solution to give your employees a benefit they truly value, at no cost to your company. Plus, a voluntary plan can help employees avoid the individual marketplace and potentially higher premium costs.

With Humana's voluntary funding option, you have the flexibility to offer a dental benefits plan that meets the unique needs of your employees. Benefits are the same as employer sponsored plans including 100% coverage on preventive care and optional benefits including composite fillings, implants and orthodontic care. Your employees have access to Humana's extensive network of dentists and receive the same network discounts available in employer-sponsored plans
